

The diagram shows a 2D grid with a blue square divided into three regions: A (top-left), B (bottom-right), and C (top-right). A diagonal line runs from the top-left to the bottom-right. Arrows indicate flow directions: a vertical arrow pointing up from region B, a horizontal arrow pointing right from region B, and a diagonal arrow pointing down-right from region C. A dashed rectangle encloses the blue square.

